Program Details

From the 2024/25 NSW budget decision, Homes NSW received $527.6 million in extra funding over four years for frontline homelessness services. Of this $100 million has been allocated to establish a Homelessness Innovation Fund (HIF). $30 million has been provisionally allocated for 2024/2025 for the HIF. The HIF is not an ongoing source of funding. It provides one-off grant funding to organisations to support better responses to homelessness.

Reforming Temporary Accommodation -HIF

There are two Competitive rounds of Grant Programs for the HIF in 2024-2025,

1. Reforming Temporary Accommodation Grant will initially target reducing the current demand and costs of temporary accommodation.
2. Service Reform and Innovation Grant seeks proposals for service reform and innovation as solutions to addressing homelessness.

The grant rounds are open to all accredited Specialist Homelessness Services (SHS), registered Community Housing Providers (CHP) and Aboriginal Community Housing Providers (ACHP) both through National or Local Scheme.

Consideration will be given to organisations who agree to achieve SHS accreditation and housing providers who are in the process of registration.

Partnerships are welcome.

Applications led by, or in partnership with Aboriginal providers, will be highly regarded.

Reforming Temporary Accommodation Grant purpose:

The purpose of the Reforming Temporary Accommodation Grant is to:

- Reduce the cost, use and length of stay of clients in temporary accommodation.
- Move away from commercial hotels and motels to temporary accommodation models being delivered by the homelessness and housing sectors.
- Increase access to appropriate supports, particularly for people with complex needs, who are staying in temporary accommodation.
- Encourage flexible and sustainable use of properties and support services over time when demand for temporary accommodation decreases.
- Attract co-contributions from the sector.
 - Co-contributions could be in any form including case management support, land, properties, cash/equity, debt, tax concessions, philanthropic donations, reduced or avoided costs, or in-kind contributions.
 - While the value and quantum of co-contributions will be one of the factors assessed, it will not be the only criteria. This is to ensure small and large organisations can participate equitably.

Outcomes

Outcomes and Benefits

Outcomes are the changes you expect to occur for the beneficiaries (direct, indirect and/or intermediaries) of your project.

Please tell us about the outcomes you expect to result from your project, clearly showing who will benefit from the outcomes from the proposal.

SHORT-TERM OUTCOMES

The impact your project's outputs (the tangible products or goods your proposed project is planning to deliver) will have after the project has been delivered and the target community and geographic area/s that will benefit from these impacts. These are usually measured within the first 6 months after finishing a project, but this will vary with each project.

MEDIUM TO LONG TERM OUTCOMES

The changes you will start to see over time in the target community group and geographic areas that are a direct result of the impacts of your project. Again, the timing of these measurements will vary with each project - however, medium term outcomes are usually measured between 6 and 12 months after a project is completed, with long term outcomes measured anywhere from 1 year to multiple years later.

| Outcome | Outcome Measure |
|--|-----------------|
| What changes do you expect will occur as a result of your project. Please be brief. One per row. | |

Qualitative and Quantitative Evidence

Based on the outcomes listed above - Qualitative data and Quantitative evidence is a descriptive rather than numeric form of evidence designed to indicate whether or not progress towards your project outcomes are occurring.

Please note this data will be required for your project reporting.

Examples of qualitative data sources include interviews, testimonials, focus group transcripts/summaries, social media posts, media appearances/mentions, and artistic or multimedia depictions such as photographs, videos and audio/podcasts.
